- ❖ Important Customs information: Items brought in quantity into The United States from outside countries should be declared and may be subject to tax. If you do bring items into the country to sell, we encourage you to carry them with you rather than ship them separately to the hotel, as they may be held in customs and require payment of customs duty at a local customs office before pickup. You are responsible for any customs fee on your sales items. The hotel will not be responsible for items sent early for storage.
